Cheap Legislation seems to be rapidly coming into vogue in the state of New York. The following advertis ment from one of their late papers is one of several similar appeals lately made to the people. Union.

To the free and independent electors of the county of Greene-Permit me to claim your attention, while I of fer you a few reasons for proposing myself as a candidate for member of Assembly. In the first place, then, my name is Jerry Blake-by trade I am a cooper-I am out of stock, and have no money to buy more; of course I am out of business, and can afford to work cheap. I have been a uniform republican, and opposed to Banks. I am a friend to general reform, and opposed to lawyers; having twice (through their means) had my tools seized to pay my rent. Having never been honoured by being chosen even,'a delegate to attend a convention, I am opposed to caucus nominations; and like this mode. I am friendly to free schools; and should like to have them free; and having now nine children I think no one will doubt it. I am friendly to igland navigation, and opposed to Steam Boats, as I occas onally serve as a hand or a cook on board a shop. I am opposed to high salariest though I pay no taxes. I am willing myself to work as cheap in Albany as I do here; and will, if elected, provided I can have my first months pay in advance to buy myself some clothes, serve you for six shillings a day and be found, or ten shillings and find myself.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.

It is stated in the Dartmouth Gasette that the Trustees of Dartmouth College have received a Mandamus from the Supreme Court of the U. States, addressed to the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, advising that they have reversed the judgment of that Court, in the case of Dartmouth College vs. William H Woodward, & have awarded 20,000 dollars damages and cost to the College Trustees, and order the court to cause said judgment to be executed .- Ver. Melancholy Occurrence.

On Monday night the 12th inst. at about 10 o'clock, 5 young men. who had been at a tavern about 5 miles from this borough (known by the name of Shaffer's tavern,) on the Centre turnpike road, attempted to cross the S. huylkill, immediately in the rear of the tavern in a canoe. The vessel by some accident was upset, and distressing to relate, four of them found a watery grave. Their names were Daniel Albright, Daniel Keiser, Valentine Moser, and Henry Berger. George Albright, a brother of Daniel's, escaped. Search was made the following morning for their bodies, which were found a short distance from the place where they were drowned. Thus, in the bloom of life, perished four young men, who but a short hour before, were sehe happiest among the happy .- Berks & Schaylkill Journal.

From the Newburgh Gazette. EXECUTION.

On Friday the 16th instant, James Teed and David Dunning, w re publicly executed in Goshen, agreeably to sentence, for the murder of Richard Jennings. The people began to assemble round the gallows at an early hour, and continued to increase until two o'clock in the afternoon. The prisoners were conducted to the place of execution at eleven o'clock, attended by the Rev. Mr. Fisk, and a number of other clergymen, under a strong mili Gry guard. During the exercises of the day, they appeared humble, and devoutly impressed with the awfu fate which awaited them. Towards the close of the scene, Teed prayed aloud for the space of fi teen minutes. The sheriff informed them that the time of their departure drew nigh. The pinion cords were tightened, and they walked with a considerable degree of firmness on to the scaffold, and at haif past two o'clock they were launched into eternity. Dunning persisted to the last, that he did not strike Jennings with the gun, as stated by Jack Hodges, on the trial, although he deserved to suffer death. He admonished those who were about to witness his untimely end, to heware of bad

The Sheriff conducted throughout the whole with the greatest firmness, and at the same time, with humanity and fellow-feeling towards the sufferers. After having read the sentence of the prifoners, and the reprieve of Couklin and Jack, he addressed the people in an appropriate and eloquent manner. Mr. Cummins opened the exercises of public worship by prayer. Mr. Fisk then delivered asermon. from Numbers, xxxii-23, replete with in-struction and warning to the assembled multitude and of consolation to the prisoners. Mr. Wilson ciosed by prayer.

The concourse, assembled on this occasion is variously estimated from 15 to 20,000.

The sentence of death passed upon Bavia Conkling & Jack Hodges, had been changed to that or the state prison. The former for life, and the latter for 21 years.

We have several times had occasion to advert to the strenuous ex ertion Spain is, at the present moment, making again to recover the provinces of La Plata. For this precise purpose, the minister Yrujo was called into office; and certainly he has given that tone to the efforts of Spain against the Transatlantic provinces, which none of his predecessors have been able to do-that is, he has put in motion those schemes which before were only to be found in the columns of the Madrid Gaz. tte-or in other words, he has obtained a certain sum of money and a certain number of transports. The British, French, Spa nish, Itafran, Dutch, Prussian, Swe dish and Danish vessels, witch are hired, are ordered to rendezvous at Cadiz in the beginning of April, t mbark 20,000 men, and to be es corted by a large naval force. Such is the project of the Spanish go vernment, which is an attempt great er than even this country ever witnessed. When then the Helder fleet sailed from England, they had about 78,000 tons of shipping for 15.000 men, who were three weeks before they landed, at which time all their water was out. For Spain to convey 20,000 men across the Atlantic, she will require 100.000 tons of sh pping or 300 vessels. Ib.
